

Dallas Youth Garden News

July 2020

July has been a great month for zucchini and summer squash. We delivered over 1000 pounds to the Family and Community Outreach Program in just three weeks.

Our garden T-shirt project this year was led by Faith, Ellie, and Chloe and reflects our standard garden attire. When interns are working in an area with others or are within six feet of another person they must wear a mask. Masks are a challenge on hot days but interns can take a break from masks when working in their garden alone.

Our intern-funded purchase this year is tree watering bags for our orchard. Each bag is filled once a week with twenty gallons of water that releases over time. The trees sure look better this summer than last, so the bags must be working.

This summer we will not host an open house. Instead interns are making a video that I will post on Facebook in the next few weeks. Interns will also be giving garden tours to family members. This will allow them to show off the great work they are doing. Our garden this season is one of our best!
